A Good Black Man, Inc. (AGBM) hopes that our learning modules will serve as yet another intervention strategy to help young people stay interested and engaged in the learning process.

ABOUT THE LOE CAMP

THE LOE CAMP CURRICULUM

To help camp participants discover what is required to be successful in the world of work and to identify their support systems, we have created two (2) learning modules to achieve our goals. The first, the AGBM Life Skills Module, was designed to help the child(ren) develop an individual plan self-improvement, and obtain skills for job searching, job retention and career management.

The second, the Computer Literacy Training Module, makes use of technological tools such as personal computers and our website (www.agoodblackman.com) to help camp participants develop an appreciation for the historical strength of the African American family as well as reflect the positive contributions of their families, friends and the community in which they live.

The overall objective of the Life Skills Program Module is to assist them with creating individual plans for self-improvement, and obtain skills for job searching, job retention and career management.

INDIVIDUALIZED INSTRUCTION

Experienced instructors and counselors maintain a low camper-to-instructor ratio, which ensures that every camper receives quality training.
